Community Evacuation Preparedness

- Subscribe to Emergency Alerts through ReachWell

Emergency alerts ensure that your residents are notified immediately of any emergency incident, and evacuation instructions will be issued through that alerting system when needed.

- Understand the primary routes in and out of your community

There are not a lot of options in many communities, but it is important for people to consider their primary, alternate, and emergency routes out of the areas where they live and work. Because fires can be unpredictable, specific evacuation instructions will sometimes be issued through the ReachWell app.

- Make a plan

Discuss with your friends and family what you would do if you needed to evacuate. Consider where you would go, and how to support pets, children, and people with specialized care needs. What would you do if an evacuation was issued while you were not at home?

- Make a kit

Prepare an emergency go-kit with items you will need to take with you if asked to leave quickly.

- Take steps now to mitigate fire risk in your home and community

Reducing wildfire risks around homes will not only give firefighters an opportunity to stop fire before it burns your home, it will also slow fires down and buy invaluable time to evacuate everyone safely.
